DIGITIZER EX

An haute couture collection has to prove it's truly inspirational long before it gets as far as captivating the catwalks. The designer uses sketches to create a new trend, a new style, but it's worthless without the workshops' know-how. Behind the scenes there's a whole host of patternmakers, dressmakers, embroiderers, lacemakers, leather-workers and stylists all practicing their craft. Very few ever find the keys to this famously secretive world. But now, thanks to Digitizer EX*, you can count on the precious help of Haute Couture's unique embroidery software to unlock your hidden talents.

In just a few clicks, the program lets you create embroidery designs – anything from a drawing, to a clip-art, a scanned photo or an image downloaded from the web. A poor-quality original? No problem. The image can be reworked on the computer until you have the perfect result. Simply transfer the data into the sewing machine using a memory stick. You then have three options – automatic, semi-automatic and manual – to let you change your design as you wish, along with the any of the computer settings.

Digitizer EX also offers a comprehensive catalogue of pre-programmed designs which can be turned, swivelled, tilted, mirrored or copied to your heart's content – along with a vast colour palette which can be used to create subtle nuances and rich effects. Technology harnessed to serve an ancient craft. Why deprive yourself?

*Digitizer EX embroidery software is an optional extra.

EMBROIDERY

If you really want fabric to sing, use embroidery... So says François Lesage, the acknowledged king of embroidery, whose name is a byword in French haute couture and whose venerable house has more than a century of embroidering credentials behind it. An embroiderer might be the star of the fashion parades, but at its heart is an artist, using a varied palette of stitches and techniques to highlight the greatest couturiers' finest creations. With Elna's Haute Couture, you too can make your creations – even the most delicate among them – sing. A wealth of subtle, discreet details, a level of unimaginable precision... Aim for impeccable, highly-creative embroidery. And let Elna's Haute Couture be your guide.

TOP MODELS

Keep things simple with two classic embroidery hoops. Optional: a unique, high-stability, extra-large hoop. Often imitated; never equalled.

DELUXE ETCHING

Be bold: sign your work and create logos. With ten typefaces included, word-play has never been such fun.
